Benefits

Gain access to a prime and collaborative media platform to not only deliver the highest quality content on sustainability and solutions, but to support and encourage social and environmental responsibility.

Work with us to brainstorm and develop ideas into insightful articles and interviews. Obtain support in the development of your writing skills.

Exposure to a larger readership with the advantage of digital marketing to drive interest and traffic to your posts.

The opportunity to drive projects, and to deliver innovative collaborations.

Together

we can educate and positively influence a sustainable living movement, by providing insight and easily accessible advice to women around the globe.

Content

Content must be original and of high quality. Content includes relevance to eco, ethical and sustainable businesses, brands and solutions with innovative ideas, materials or means of production, lifestyle tips, advice, and recommendations in any of the categories provided. Self-promotion prohibited.

Articles or interview format is accepted.

Reports or guides are highly valued and recommended, with your own witty flair, of-course.

We prefer quality over quantity. Thoughtful, well researched, well-edited, fact-checked articles are recommended with a minimum of 600 words.

Generally, articles average 800-1200 words. Word limit is capped at a maximum of 2000 words.

Copy must be exclusively provided to and for One Green Dream. Infringement on copyright law and / or plagiarism may lead to serious legal action.

Author Bio

A short bio will appear below each published piece of content. If you will be posting on a regular basis and would like to commit to 6 months of writing for us, or more, we will add you to the meet the team section on our website. Submit your bio of approximately 100 words with a professional looking headshot or company logo in JPEG format.
